Saturday June 2, House of Blues Boston is having their first annual fundraising gala to support the Music Forward Foundation. Music Forward Foundation is a not-for-profit organization that works to develop leadership skills in students, between the ages of 12 and 22, through music.

Music Forward Foundation is an evolution from the 1993 International House of Blues Foundation. Today, it is an independent nonprofit organization that the House of Blues keeps a strong bond with. This gala is being held to support the programs that provide underserved kids access and tools within the music industry. These tools will open opportunities for them in the future. The programs include: workshops and nationwide showcases, backstage passes and invites to tours and scholarships for children who want to pursue a music education. This will allow the students to get hands on experience on the backstage organization of events.

The Foundation's bands, Brick Wall and The Shift Key, will be opening for Arctic Monkeys at the gala. All Foundation Room members are invited with a companion. Additional to any donations, 20 percent of all food and drinks profit will go towards the foundation. The event will start at 8:00pm.

"Being a part of Music Forward programs, I have worked side by side with music industry professionals and learned invaluable professional skills like résumé building, networking and time management." Deonte, age 18
